Milking technicians are an essential part of your dairy's success. Their obvious role in the milking parlor is but one of the many important tasks and responsibilities they must perform with consistency and a high degree of quality. Many dairy managers express frustration in their ability to successfully train, motivate and retain high quality milking technicians.

Dairy Enterprise Services offers comprehensive Milking Technician Assessment and Training (MTAT) for this essential process in your dairy. Our trainers have knowledge and experience in dairy production and professional experience in training people to acquire new skills. Dairy Enterprise Service's training staff has bi-lingual and bi-cultural (English/Spanish) capabilities.

Here is an outline of the services provided by MTAT:

- ◆ Observation and written evaluation of present milking routine and parlor performance
- ◆ Comparison and alignment of "observed" practices verses "desired" practices
- ◆ Education in understanding the impact of proper milking technique on milk production and animal health
- ◆ Comprehensive training in desired parlor practices, milking technique and animal flow including:
  - ⇒ Animal movement
  - ⇒ Udder preparation
  - ⇒ Milking
  - ⇒ Post-milking
  - ⇒ Dairy Quality Management
  - ⇒ Parlor clean up
- ◆ Scheduled follow-up sessions after initial training is completed
